1. INTRODUCTION

Customer satisfaction is an integral part of i-Talk's client centred philosophy and culture and we consider client complaints as free gifts from our customers that provide us with the important insights that we need to enhance our service excellence to our clients and to ensure that we continuously provide them with world-class customer service experiences.

What clients want:

- A user-friendly complaint handling system;
- To feel that they are being heard and understood;
- To feel respected;
- To actually experience a client-centred approach, instead of only hearing about it;
- To receive a response and an explanation;
- Quick action by the organisation;
- An apology, where due.

What i-Talk needs:

- A user-friendly system for receiving feedback;
- Clear delegations and procedures for employees to deal with complaints and provide remedies;
- A system for capturing complaint data;
- Using complaint data to identify problems and trends;
- To improve service delivery within identified areas.

The hallmarks of effective complaints handling systems:

➤ Step 1 Enabling complaints submission

Arrangements for enabling people to submit complaints are customer focused, visible, accessible and valued and supported by management.

➤ Step 2 Responding to complaints received

Complaints are responded to promptly and handled objectively, fairly and confidentially. Remedies are provided where complaints are upheld and there is a system for proper review.

➤ Step 3 Accountability and learning

There are clear accountabilities for complaint handling and complaints are used to stimulate organisational improvements.
